NO PUBLIC STATEMENT FROM THE PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)
LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 10.—President Wilson left here at 7:30 o'clock last night on the naval yacht Mayflower for Rhinecliff, N. Y., to take a train today for Williamstown, Mass., where he goes to act as godfather for Eleanor Axson Sayre, the youngest child of Mrs. Frances B. Sayre, the president's daughter. He will leave Williamstown Saturday afternoon for Washington, arriving there Sunday night. Up to the hour of Mr. Wilson's departure final figures on doubtful states had not been received, although he had been assured by National Committee Chairman McCormick and Colonel E. M. House that he had been re-elected. President Wilson issued no statement before his departure and continued to take the position that he would await the final figures before making any claims. Secretary Tumulty and other officials, however, grew more and more optimistic in their comments on the election returns. Mr. Tumulty did not make the trip with the president, but remained at the executive offices last night to receive returns.

TONOPAH WILL PLAY HOME TEAM TOMORROW

CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE IN HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TO BE DECIDED

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock Tonopah plays Reno for the football championship of the state. Reno is going up against one of the strongest teams that Tonopah high has had since the days of Flood, Harrington, Fowler, etc. The Renos are coming with the idea that they are going to defeat Tonopah like last year in Reno, but they have no turf to play on, which is a big handicap for Reno. Another is the altitude and another is in the fact that the Tonopah high is an undefeated team and has played a team as heavy as Reno or heavier. Coaches Merrill and Cross claim a victory and Tonopah should turn out as never before and support a winning team, like all good sports do. The following will probably be the lineup for Tonopah high school: Gilber, right end, 138 pounds; Monahan, right tackle, 137; Egan, right guard, 145; Murphy, center, 148; Mel-drom, left guard, 135; Blaker, left tackle, 147; O'Connell, left end, 135; Harrington, right halfback, 155; Gibbons, quarterback, 140; M. Pollard, fullback, 160; B. Pollard, left halfback, 145. Average, 144 1/2 pounds.

THIRSTY LOCOMOTIVES.

Giving the Boilers a Drink in the Deserts of India.
The Indian locomotive is always taking water. At every station there is a tank, and while the train is standing at the platform, above the noises and cries of the people, you hear the gush of water and, if you look forward, you see the beturbanned engineer busy with a dripping waterpipe. The tanks are usually supplied from a well or nearby river, but in the desert lands rivers are few and wells are not always to be trusted. At one village where we stopped the tank was empty, writes Thornton Oakley in Harper's Magazine. Its well had gone dry. The engineer and station master consulted together. There was another well, the station master said, a mile farther down the road. It belonged to a farmer and still had water in it. There was yet steam enough in the engine's boiler to carry the train a mile or so, and soon we had drawn up in a sandy stretch of country where only a few yellow patches of grass were to be seen and where a lean, black Hindu was rhythmically bending and rising above a well, pouring out little bucketsful of water upon the parched surface of his field. The lean Hindu was the farmer, and for 1 rupee he agreed to sell enough water to carry the train on to the next station. The engineer came down along the train, calling upon the passengers for help, and soon was formed a line of dark skinned figures stretching from the engine to the well. The farmer had two shallow pails. These went back and forth along the line, and little by little, drop by drop, the water of the well passed into the tank of the locomotive. When the train resumed its journey we were three hours late.

Big Payday, But Little Action

Today the mining and milling companies of this city made their usual disbursement for labor, supplies, power, etc. In all, there was more than $400,000 paid out, there being heavy bills for timbers, pumps and general machinery. Very few of the miners cashed their checks early in the day, and there was less activity than usual on paydays, but there is assurance of plenty of doing tonight.

PITTMAN MAY WIN BY 2,000 PLURALITY

Latest word from Democratic state headquarters at Reno indicates that Senator Pittman is now leading his nearest opponent, Sam Platt, by something like 1500, and it promises to reach 2000. Wilson's lead, according to the same information, will likely reach 3000. Sanders is leading Moran by several hundred and his election is claimed. Kennett also leads McKay for clerk of the supreme court and has unquestionably won. In the fight for representative, Roberts continues a fair lead and has defeated Ed Caine. The regents are still in doubt.

There were three million subscribers to the loan.

WILSON'S ELECTION NOW A CERTAINTY

mountain counties, generally Democratic, came in, with consistent Wilson pluralities, until at night a more decided Democratic lead was re-established. Leaders of both parties affirmed their intention of protesting the recount to the limit. Secret service men watched all day in San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento, Mr. Cushing announced towards evening. Chairman Rowell of the Republicans telegraphed all county chairmen to arrange for the "best legal talent" to watch the official count. The official statement given out last night by Republican Chairman Rowell said: "Our returns show the vote almost an exact tie in California. Precincts still out are in remote mountain districts. We are watching returns in all counties and will have an official count beginning before boards of surveyors Monday. No intelligent claims can, of course, be made by either side on so close a vote. It will take the official count and if the vote is very close the delegation will be split, as it was before. This might elect Hughes, whichever side has the long end of the split delegation."

Chairman Cushing said: "The fact that California has an unusually large ballot this year is responsible for the slowness of the count. Outside of Los Angeles, the time taken for the count is normal. We have taken measures for the protection of the count, through county chairmen and other interested parties, and there is plenty of evidence that we are on the job, every missing precinct being covered by watchers. The indications are most favorable to Wilson. Allowing for revisions and so forth we figure that California has gone safely for Wilson by 3100 or more."

Although he conceded the state to Wilson in the face of the present tabulation, Rowell, Republican chairman, said: "We certainly do not yet concede California on the final official returns. Our reports show that all sections of the state indicate a heavy split vote, which would gain several electors for Hughes if the reports are borne out by the official count. It looks now that there will be a difference as great as five thousand between the leading electors and the Republican electors, according to the smallest vote." Cushing, Democratic chairman, said the final official count would sustain Wilson's present California majority.

PROHIBITION VOTE IS ABOUT 350,000

(By Associated Press.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Oliver O. Stewart, chairman of the Prohibition national campaign committee, yesterday issued a statement in which he said the Prohibition vote would reach 350,000 and that had the Republican party and its nominee said anything against the liquor traffic enough Prohibitionists would have voted the Republican ticket to have assured Mr. Hughes' election in earlier returns.

CAR SERVICE RULES WILL BE REVISED

(By Associated Press.)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—That a revision of the car service rules of the country's railroads is under consideration was brought out in the testimony of George Hodges, chairman of the car service committee of the American Railway association, one of the last witnesses to appear yesterday at the hearings in connection with an investigation by the Interstate Commerce commission into the exchange and return of freight cars by the railroads of the country. A revision designed to correct certain abuses already has been prepared, he said, and will be placed before a meeting of the American Railroad association, November 15, at Denver. He was not at liberty to make public at this time the proposed changes incorporated into the revision, he said.

DEMAND IS MADE TO RECOUNT THE VOTES

(By Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Demands for representation at a recount of voting return sheets were made yesterday by Democratic leaders upon Thomas C. McAlear, registrar of votes, and a representative from Republican and one from Democratic headquarters were authorized to watch the count. The ballots were transmitted to a vault in the presence of Albert Schoonover, U. S. district attorney.

The count will probably start about next Thursday, after the semi-official count of votes has been made by the county boards of supervisors. Jordan says there is no provision of law providing for a recount where the election for presidential electors is close, congress relying upon the certification of the state's chief executive after the count has been made by the secretary of state.

In 1912, two Democratic electors were chosen in California along with Republicans—Griffin, Democratic, winning over J. W. Finney, Republican, and Del Valle, Democrat, beating M. A. Luce, Republican. There are several other cases in the history of California where presidential elections have been so close as to split the electoral vote, says Jordan. This occurred in 1880, 1892 and also in 1896.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER
The feature picture at the Butler this evening is Theda Bara in "Her Double Life," the thrilling story of a woman's deception. Miss Bara portrays the role of a poor girl who rises by deceit. The story tells how a girl rises from life in the slums of London to one of the highest places in English society, then falls suddenly when the deception is disclosed. Miss Bara is the tenement child in "The Refuge," and answers the call for war nurses. At the front she meets Stanley, war correspondent, whom she had known in London. She is saved from dishonor at Stanley's hands by the bombardment of the hospital tent. After the attack she finds the body of a young girl in the tent—Ethel Wardley, niece of Lady Clifford's, who is on her way to make her home with the aunt she has never seen. Mary changes clothes with Ethel, takes her papers and luggage and goes to Lady Clifford's, where she is received as the niece. Elliott, the son, soon falls in love with her her himself. Stanley later returns to England and brings the real Ethel Wardley, who has recovered from the wounds on the battle line. They go to the Cliffords and Mary confesses and returns to "The Refuge" to work out her salvation among the little children. The preliminary reel will be "Luke, the Circus King," a good comedy for the little folks. Tomorrow, a double bill: Charlie Chaplin, and Harold Lockwood and May Allison in "The River of Romance."
